“The design leaves most of the face free and is very elegant.”¹

- AirFit F30 user

Getting a good night's sleep gives you the energy you need to get back to doing the things you love. And now with the simple, modern look of ResMed AirFit™ F30, you'll also feel more confident using therapy around your loved ones.

Wake up without the red

AirFit F30 is our small and lightweight minimal-contact full face mask designed to cover less of your face. Its low-profile design means the mask sits lower on your face, so you'll experience fewer facial marks with AirFit F30 than with traditional full face masks.

- Designed to prevent top-of-the-nose soreness, irritation and red marks¹
- Allows you to wear glasses with your mask to bed, so you can read a book, answer a text message or watch TV
- Helps you feel less claustrophobic during therapy
- Keeps you comfortable when you sleep on your side

More peace and quiet

AirFit F30 is so quiet, you may barely hear it. Featuring small, multidirectional openings over a widespread area, QuietAir vent technology in the elbow of the mask breaks up exhaled air so it's spread out lightly. In a recent study, more than 95% of AirFit F30 trial participants noted the mask venting caused minimal sleep disruption for themselves and their bed partners.³ Eliminate the wall of pillows separating you from your loved one and curl up even closer.
